“Every meal at Disney
can be a magical memory”

Sarah DeMaria

Agent at 407&Beyond Since 2021

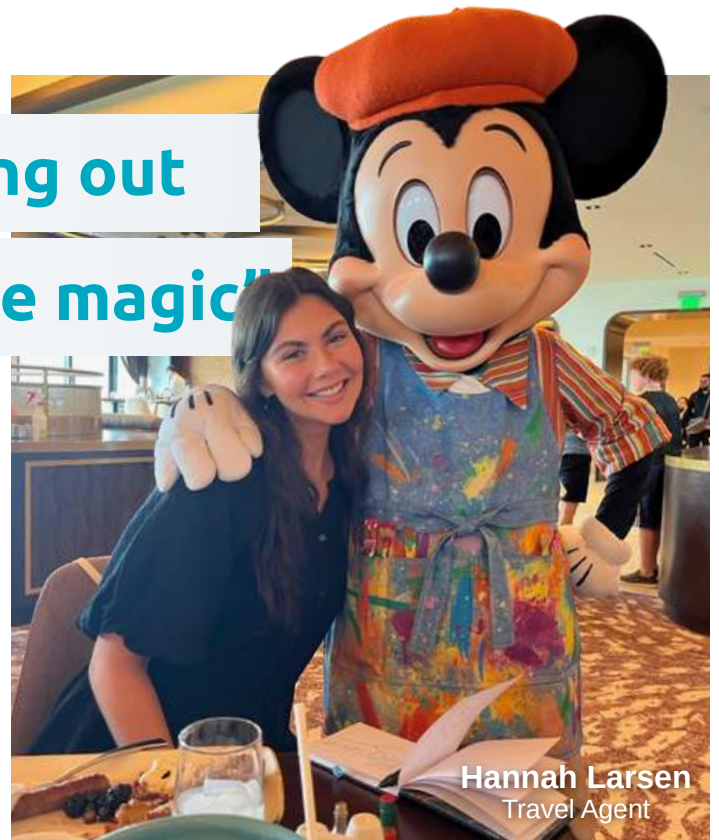

I love helping clients book their Walt Disney World dining reservations because it adds that extra touch of magic to their vacation. From character meals to hidden gems, I enjoy sharing insider tips that make each dining experience special. Planning ahead ensures they get the most out of their trip without the stress. It brings me joy to know I am creating unforgettable memories, one reservation at a time.

“It is more than just going out for dinner, it’s part of the magic”

Hannah Larsen

Agent at 407&Beyond Since 2023

As a travel agent, I love helping families plan their Disney dining because those shared meals often become the most cherished memories. Whether it's watching their kids light up at a character breakfast or enjoying a quiet dinner after a busy park day, dining brings everyone together.

Important Terminology

Dining at Walt Disney World

Discover the differences between the various dining types at Walt Disney World and explore which restaurants fall into each category to help you plan your visit with ease. We'll start by breaking down the different types of dining available across the parks and resorts.

Character Dining

Reservations Required

Guests can interact with beloved Disney characters while enjoying a meal. Enjoy special experiences like breakfast with Mickey and Friends at Chef Mickey's or dinner with the princesses in Cinderella's Castle. You are sure to make memories that will last a lifetime!

When to Book:

These dining options are available at various locations across all four theme parks and select Walt Disney World resorts. Character dining can be booked 60 days in advance, and it is recommended to secure reservations as soon as your booking window opens.

Fine/Signature Dining

Reservations Required

Experience Walt Disney World's top-tier table service restaurants, offering elevated culinary experiences with exceptional service, elegant atmospheres, and often, higher price points. These restaurants are known for their upscale menus, extensive wine lists, and more refined dress codes compared to standard table service or quick service options. Reservations can be made 60 days in advance, and it is recommended to secure reservations as soon as your booking window opens.

When to Book:

Reservations can be made 60 days in advance, and it is recommended to secure reservations as soon as your booking window opens.

Table Service/Casual Dining

Reservations Required

Guests at Table Service restaurants are seated by a cast member and waited on by a server throughout their meal. These atmospheres tend to be more casual, and the expected attire is usually what guests are wearing in the parks. Dining reservations are encouraged, especially for the more popular restaurants, but walk-up lists are sometimes available.

When to Book:

Reservations can be made 60 days in advance, and it is recommended to secure reservations as soon as your booking window opens.

Quick Service

No Reservations Required

Dine at your choice of over 100 Quick Service locations where you can stop and enjoy a casual meal when you are ready to grab a bite to eat. Quick Service is similar to fast food in that it is casual and does not require dining reservations. This dining style is available at all four theme parks, water parks, resort hotels, Disney Springs, and the ESPN Wide World of Sports complex.

When to Book:

No reservations are required. Simply walk-up or order your food for pick up through mobile order on the My Disney Experience app.

407&Beyond Dining Tip

Dining reservations open 60 days in advance at 6:00 AM Eastern Time, and the most popular restaurants fill up fast. If you are staying at a Disney Resort hotel, you can book for your entire length of stay (up to 10 days), giving you a better shot at hard-to-get reservations like Cinderella's Royal Table or Space 220.

The My Disney Experience app makes it easy to search, book, and modify dining reservations on the go. You can also use it to join walk-up waitlists for select restaurants, check menus, and get notified if a spot becomes available.

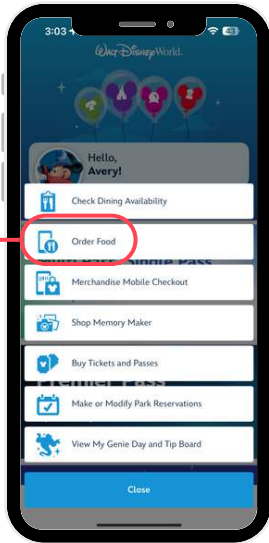

If your first-choice restaurant or time is not available, try booking for a different meal (like lunch instead of dinner) or at a nearby resort location. Dining outside the parks—like at Disney Springs or resort hotels—can be just as magical and often easier to reserve.

407&Beyond Dining Tip

Mobile Order lets you choose a return window for when you want to pick up your food. Place your order in the morning, even if you plan to eat later—this helps you lock in a convenient time and skip long lines during lunch and dinner rushes.

Many Mobile Order locations allow you to customize your food, like removing toppings or choosing sides, directly in the app. It's a great way to personalize meals for picky eaters or dietary preferences without waiting in line.

Once your selected return window arrives and you're near the restaurant, tap "I'm Here, Prepare My Order" in the app. This ensures your food is made fresh and ready when you walk up to the Mobile Order pickup window.

Questions & Answers

When can I start making dining reservations for my Walt Disney World trip?

You can make dining reservations up to 60 days in advance of your arrival date. If you are staying at a Disney Resort hotel, you can book for your entire stay (up to 10 days) starting on that 60-day mark.

Are dining reservations necessary at Walt Disney World?

While not every restaurant requires a reservation, many popular table-service restaurants book up quickly. Reservations are highly recommended, especially for character dining, signature restaurants, and special experiences.

What happens if I cannot get the reservation I want?

Keep checking! Cancellations happen often—especially 24–48 hours in advance. You can also use reservation finder tools or work with a travel agent (like me!) to help monitor availability.

Do I need a park ticket to dine at restaurants inside the theme parks?

Yes. You'll need a valid park admission and park reservation (if required) to dine at restaurants located inside the theme parks.

Are there dining options for guests with food allergies or dietary restrictions?

Absolutely! Disney is very allergy- and dietary-friendly. Most restaurants can accommodate common allergies and special diets, and you can note any restrictions when booking your reservation.

What is Disney's Mobile Order and how does it work?

Mobile Order allows you to pre-order and pre-pay for meals at many quick-service locations using the My Disney Experience app. It's a great time-saver and helps avoid waiting in line.

What are the best character dining experiences?

Some fan-favorites include Cinderella's Royal Table, Chef Mickey's, Topolino's Terrace – Breakfast à la Art, and Tusker House. Each offers a unique atmosphere, character lineup, and cuisine!

Can I bring my own food and drinks into the parks?

Yes, guests are allowed to bring snacks and non-alcoholic beverages into the parks. Just be sure items are not in glass containers and do not require heating or refrigeration.

What are Disney Dining Plans and are they available?

The Disney Dining Plans are prepaid meal packages that can be added to Disney Resort hotel reservations. Dining Plans returned in 2024 and are a great way to budget for food in advance—ask me if it's a good fit for your family!

How far in advance should I plan my dining if I want to do a special experience like fireworks dining or a dessert party?

For premium dining events like Fireworks Dessert Parties or Signature Dining with a view, booking as close to your 60-day window as possible is key. These experiences are popular and often sell out early.

407&Beyond Dining Tip

Try booking a character breakfast for an early park entry! Many character dining locations—like Cinderella’s Royal Table in Magic Kingdom or Tusker House in Animal Kingdom—offer reservation times before the park officially opens. Not only do you enjoy a fun, leisurely breakfast with beloved characters, but you also get to enter the park early and walk through an uncrowded Main Street or Discovery Island—perfect for magical photos without the crowds!

407&Beyond Park Tip

Take advantage of the World Showcase by snacking and sipping around the countries instead of booking a traditional sit-down meal. Epcot is known for its incredible variety of international flavors, with food booths during festivals and unique quick-service spots like Les Halles Boulangerie in France or Katsura Grill in Japan.

407&Beyond Park Tip

For a fun and immersive dining experience, book a meal at 50's Prime Time Café, where you'll enjoy classic comfort food in a retro kitchen setting—just don't forget your manners or "Mom" might scold you! If you're short on time, Mobile Order from Woody's Lunch Box is a guest favorite for quick and delicious options like the grilled cheese or Totchos.
